CALIFORNIA'S ALL INCIDENT REPORTING SYSTEM CALIFORNIA CAIRS!

Why Attend NFIRS Train the Trainer?

California is a large state with more than a thousand fire departments that respond to a wide range of incidents inside and outside the state.

This level of activity results in a large amount of data, potentially more than 10% of incident data nationwide.

On January 1, 2003 the State Fire Marshal will require that all fire departments in California begin reporting incidents in NFIRS format. A large amount of training and outreach will be needed throughout the state to accomplish this change.

You can assist with this important endeavor by attending this train the trainer class. Once you have received this training, you may be called upon to deliver additional training or to provide support to other NFIRS users in California.

What is the NFIRS Train the Trainer

A two-day course to train fire department training officers and other personnel in the delivery of the federal NFIRS 5.1 incident reporting system training class.

The NFIRS has two objectives: to help State and local governments develop fire reporting and analysis capability for their own use, and to obtain data that can be used to more accurately assess and subsequently combat the fire problem at a national level.

The NFIRS reporting format is based on National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) Standard 901, "Uniform Coding for Fire Protection" 1976 version, the 1981 codes for Fire Service Casualty Reporting, and the 1990 codes for Hazardous Materials Reporting. NFIRS 5.1 expands the collection of data beyond fires to include the full range of fire department activity on a national scale. It is a true all-incident reporting system.
